Such an innovative combination gives us the optimal effect of remodeling, firming, reducing discoloration and scars. FERULAC PEEL

Ferulac is an ideal solution in anti-aging therapy and for sun discoloration. You don't have to wait long for the effect - it occurs within a few days. It is a peeling based on ferulic acid, phloretin, hyaluronic acid and vitamins. Due to its very strong antioxidant properties, it is a year-round treatment, and at this time it is recommended for all skin types. Preparations used in the Ferulac treatment are made in nanosomal technology: they penetrate deep into the skin, release slowly, and their action is prolonged.

Indications for the procedure:

- Anti-aging therapy
- Solar discoloration
- Improvement of the condition of the skin within a few days.

Ferulac Peel is a modern, non-invasive method of dealing with skin problems: seborrhea, laxity, excessive drying or discoloration of the skin, which provides quick and spectacular results without the need to participate in a long and painful therapy. Ferulac Peel, thanks to the properties of ferulic acid it contains, acts on several levels: it rejuvenates and brightens the skin, protects it against the negative effects of UVA / UVB radiation and has anti-inflammatory properties.

Peeling brings immediate and visible effects in the form of a clear brightening and improvement of the skin tone. After the treatment, the skin becomes luminous and firm, and most of the problems (discoloration, wrinkles, acne scars) disappear or are significantly reduced.

INTENSIVE HYALURONIC moisturizing treatment

A rescue for dehydrated, rough, tight and irritated skin.

The treatment is commonly known as a hyaluronic acid bath. It is a substance that occurs naturally in the skin - it retains water by filling the intercellular spaces of the epidermis. There is an abundance of hyaluronic acid in the body of a young person, which is why the skin is elastic. Its amount decreases with age, therefore it loses its elasticity, becomes rough and prone to irritation. Highly dehydrated, it is covered with a mesh of fine wrinkles. "Hyaluronic acid bath" aims to replenish the deficiencies of this compound in the skin and quickly improves its hydration. The treatment works like a lotion - it soothes discomfort and tightness, it also smoothes fine lines caused by dehydration. It improves the smoothness and color of the skin. Gray, rough skin becomes soft and smooth.

Additionally, thanks to the patented Skin Balance System formula, the treatment stimulates the skin's natural defense mechanisms. Osmopeel perfectly prepares the face for moisturizing and regenerating procedures, but also works as an independent treatment - it brightens, smoothes, moisturizes and beautifully illuminates the skin.
